

Annual Report 2019

The main focus of notifications this year seems to have still been cybercrime and scam advice. The Police Connect service seems to focusing on this aspect as it seems to be easier to send round alerts electronically than it does about more local issues. Because of Police cutbacks there are fewer officers dealing with local issues and they are more targeted at where there is the most reported crimes.

In October 2018 Suffolk Constabulary pledged to ensure local policing remained at the heart of the county's police service as a new neighbourhood model was implemented.

The restructure saw more than 100 police officers move into Safer Neighbourhood Teams (SNTs). The extra resource in SNTs aims to ensure the constabulary has the ability to respond to the increasing demand it faces, and the public's desire for more visible policing. The changes meant more than 150 Police Constables and 28 Sergeants will now work in SNT's. However to achieve this, the number of Police Community Support officers (PCSOs) was reduced from the 81 full-time equivalent (FTE) PCSOs in July to 48 FTE PCSOs.

Further changes meant the introduction of Community Engagement Officers and a new Serious Crime Disruption Team has been created to tackle crime trends.

Three Neighbourhood & Partnerships Teams (NPT) have been created and are responsible for the management of specific areas of policing such as Rural Crime, Licensing and Retail/Business Crime, ensuring that these are tackled and developed in a joined up way.

The purpose of the new model is to ensure the force has the right resources in the right place at the right time, providing a proactive policing resource and puts visibility and accessibility at its forefront.

Tim Passmore said "From today we will see an extra 104 police officers moving into the Safer Neighbourhood Teams, which is great news. In order to do this some police roles have been civilianised, officers have been moved from central to local teams and regrettably the number of PCSOs will now reduce, but the outcome will be more police officers in local policing."

There were problems with theft from outlying properties during February 2019 but otherwise I know of very little other crime in the local area. Police warned us to be vigilant and not leave outbuildings or unattended cars unlocked. Beach huts were again targeted in October 2018. There was a possible Arson/Damage crime in July 2018 but as the incident involved a child under the age of 10 years and the necessary help and support was given to the child and the family, no further information was available. Speeding remains a problem for the village but the Parish Council is undertaking actions to try and provide some sort of traffic calming.
