

DATA PRIVACY NOTICE

Waldringfield Parish Council

Introduction

A new law called the General Data Protection Regulation ('GDPR') governing the processing of personal data came into effect on the 25th May 2018. Waldringfield Parish Council ('WPC') must comply with its requirements, just like any other organisation. A description of what personal data WPC processes and for what purposes is set out in this Privacy Notice. It also describes your rights with regard to personal data WPC holds.

WPC only holds the minimum data necessary to carry out its duties, and will always endeavour to process that data lawfully, keep it secure and uphold your rights over your personal data, as described below.

Your personal data – what is it?

"Personal data" is any information about a living individual which allows them to be identified from that data (for example a name, photographs, videos, email address, or address). Identification can be directly using the data itself or by combining it with other information which helps to identify a living individual.

Other data controllers WPC works with

We may need to share your personal data we hold with other organisations so that they can carry out their responsibilities to WPC. If we and the other data controllers are processing your data jointly for the same purposes, then WPC and the other data controllers may be "joint data controllers" which mean we are all collectively responsible to you for your data. Where each of the parties are processing your data for their own independent purposes then each of us will be independently responsible to you and if you have any questions, wish to exercise any of your rights (see below) or wish to raise a complaint, you should do so directly to the relevant data controller.

What is the legal basis for processing your personal data?

WPC is a public authority and has certain powers and obligations. Most of your personal data is processed for compliance with a legal obligation which includes the discharge of WPC's statutory functions and powers. Sometimes when exercising these powers or duties it is necessary to process personal data of residents or people using WPC's services. We will always take into account your interests and rights. This Privacy Notice sets out your rights and WPC's obligations to you.

We may process personal data if it is necessary for the performance of a contract with you, or to take steps to enter into a contract. An example of this would be processing your data in connection with maintenance work undertaken by you for WPC.

Sometimes the use of your personal data requires your consent. We will first obtain your consent to that use.

Sharing your personal data

This section provides information about the third parties with whom WPC may share your personal data. These third parties have an obligation to put in place appropriate security measures and will be responsible to you directly for the manner in which they process and protect your personal data. It is likely that we will need to share your data with some or all of the following (but only where necessary):

- The data controllers listed above under the heading "Other data controllers WPC works with".
- Our agents, suppliers and contractors. For example, we may ask a commercial provider to publish or distribute newsletters on our behalf.
- On occasion, other local authorities or not for profit bodies with which we are carrying out joint ventures e.g. in relation to facilities or events for the community.

How long do we keep your personal data?

We will keep some records permanently if we are legally required to do so. We may keep some other records for an extended period of time. For example, it is currently best practice to keep financial records for a minimum period of 8 years to support HMRC audits or provide tax information. We may have legal obligations to retain some data in connection with our statutory obligations as a public authority. WPC is permitted to retain data in order to defend or pursue claims. In some cases the law imposes a time limit for such claims (for example 3 years for personal injury claims or 6 years for contract claims). We will retain some personal data for this purpose as long as we believe it is necessary to be able to defend or pursue a claim. In general, we will endeavour to keep data only for as long as we need it. This means that we will delete it when it is no longer needed.
