HARVEST SUPPER and PANTOMIME

Saturday, October 10th at 7.00.

Come to the Harvest Supper on October 10th and experience Waldringfield's truly sensational autumn entertainment phenomenon, The Wind in the Pillows, best summed up as puppetry and ham.

To say that preparations are in their infancy is an exaggeration but it will be fun (and fine) on the night !!

Full details, including cost, will be published in the next edition of the Focus newsletter and possibly via a leaflet drop. However, save the date now for an evening of fun and frivolity !

WALDRINGFIELD VILLAGE HALL WINTER TALKS

And now for something completely different !!

The talks kick off at 7.30pm on Thursday, November 5th with a Show and Tell by Ipswich Makerspace whose members include Tim Elliot.

Their demonstrations should include prize-winning robots, a 3D printer and a quadcopter. Forget Guy Fawkes and take a look into the future on this intriguing first night.

On Thursday December 3rd Tim Voelcker, a well-known naval historian from Bucklesham will tell us the tale of 'Sailors Three' – Admiral Vernon of Orwell Park, Admiral Sir James Saumarez and Rear Admiral Sir Philip Bowes Broke of Broke Hall.

These talks are excellent value for money especially as the small entrance fee includes the cost of refreshments. Come along and support both the speakers' chosen charities and your own Village Hall.

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH

We continue to be thankful for the support from the Reverend Christine Nunn and her joyful services. Chris is a non-stipendiary vicar, which means that she does not receive pay for her work.

The new benefice of eight parishes is gathering momentum we think..... although it seems to take a long time to move the mountain before us. Each parish has been working on producing a profile and the combined work will be used to support the search for a new benefice incumbent.

Sadly, we have seen a flurry of funerals this year and we are most grateful to both Chris Nunn and Robin Spittle for ensuring that these services continue to be meaningful and bereaved families supported in the tradition of All Saints.

More happily, we have had several baptisms, and the joyous wedding on July 31st of Amy Turner and Lewis Culf. The Turners are surely now the longest-standing family in the village.

Although we have not been fund-raising this year, we have been busy in planning some exciting events for next year.

We were delighted to be able to hold the traditional annual Yachtsmen's Service on July 12th. The collection raised £354.10., of which £100 covered expenses. We have, however, just received that same £100 as a very generous donation to the Fabric Fund by Dorne Pretymann-Waller. We thank her so much for her generosity, and the work she and others did in organising.

The annual cycle ride in aid of the Suffolk Historic Churches Trust has come around with alarming rapidity and will take place on Saturday September 12th. We have asked "Head Office" (in John Waller's words) for a fine day.....The stalwarts will soon be asking for sponsorship, and riders of all ages, energy levels and determination are most welcome to take part.

For information please contact Frances Matheson, our village organiser. SHCT provides invaluable support, both financial and advisory, in the struggle to maintain our wealth of historic churches of all shapes and sizes in the county.

See the Waldringfielders notices weekly for details of forthcoming services.

SUFFOLK COUNTY COUNCIL REPORT

Colin Noble, Leader of SCC, has begun a series of visits to towns in order to meet people, hear their views and answer any questions. This initiative aims to find out what issues are of concern to residents and what might be done, locally, to address matters.

www.suffolk.gov.uk/wearelistening

A planned programme of highways improvement works began on Friday 3rd July to increase road capacity and alleviate congestion in key areas of east Ipswich, particularly along Ransomes Way, Felixstowe Road and Nacton Road. This will reduce delay times for road users during busy peak periods.

As part of the works, Nacton Road will be widened between The Havens' and Thrasher roundabouts. This will enable three traffic lanes and a 'free left slip road' at The Havens roundabout, to aid traffic turning left without having to slow or enter the roundabout.

This will enable traffic from The Havens to slip onto the A14 east bound road without causing congestion. There will also be a number of cycle route and pedestrian improvements made as part of the works. Local businesses have previously welcomed this news, as the completed works will improve access to Ransomes Europark and surrounding businesses.

The first phase of improvement takes place between July and November and includes work: to widen roads at roundabouts; to increase and improve capacity; to relocate some existing signal crossings; to install new pedestrian crossing islands; to resurface and paint line markings. For further information on this programme of work, visit www.suffolk.gov.uk/nactonroad

Following the above, as this concerns SCC Highways too, I hope that verges have been cut in your area. I phoned some weeks ago and was promised that, as soon as major junctions had been cleared, work would then start on minor verges. Let me know if there are any outstanding.

My work continues, as chairman of the Police & Crime Panel, and in mid-July I was asked to report to the Suffolk Leaders meeting regarding issues the panel has tackled, and to answer questions.

I was particularly interested to go, as I very much want to assess, for my own satisfaction, how partnership-working is manifesting itself.

The Police & Crime Panel met in Bury to ask questions of the Commissioner in relation to:

Responding to Emergencies; Draft Variations to the Police and Crime Plan and the PCC's Strategic Partnership Methodology.

Suffolk Coastal District Council

Brown Bins

The local media has highlighted the brown bin situation. Suffolk County Council has reduced the subsidy to District councils and SCDC has yet to come to its conclusion as to the way forward.

Travellers

Moving on travellers is never quick. There is a duty of care and a welfare audit has to take place. Delays were caused by two travellers who were receiving treatment at Ipswich Hospital. All councils are looking at updating legal short-stay traveller sites, however this is not as straightforward as it seems as various groups of travellers which visit us over the summer do not mix with other groups. They have all moved on and sites have been cleared up extremely swiftly and well.

Felixstowe Forward Launch

This was oversubscribed and attended by over 125 people from businesses, tourist attractions, community groups and residents. With a new hotel and alterations to improve existing hotels, new play areas at the south Seafront development and more housing coming forward Felixstowe is looking ahead to better facilities to attract visitors and grow the local economy. The Seafront gardens are progressing and are looking very smart. Some gardens are already open and apart from the new shelter all gardens will be open by mid August. Village of the Year was won by Grundisburgh, Wickham Market came second and Kelsale-cum-Carlton third. I had the pleasure of presenting these awards on 18th July.

Planning—the Scheme of Delegation.

This will go before the full Council in September as it was not ready for the August meeting. There will be changes which will probably allow Parish Councils as well as District Councillors to call-in applications when their views are contrary to those of officers. There will have to be strong planning reasons to enable a call-in. More information will be available on this at a later date.

My Chairman's Challenge

This is moving on well, as at 3rd August, I had visited 20 of the 118 parish communities, who are always very welcoming and pleased that someone is taking an interest in the hard work they are putting in for the benefit of their local villages and projects. I am also handing out information on access to SCDC funding pots.

Please keep me informed of local events which I can attend in your villages by emailing chairman@suffolkcoastal.gov.uk

SCDC Cllr Susan Harvey - Chairman of the Council

Deben Estuary Partnership

The Deben Estuary Plan was launched in Felixstowe Ferry on the last Friday of July. Giles' ghost in his sailing club seemed to smile on this trend-setting example of partnership working.

Over the past four years, the Deben Estuary Partnership, between local councils, riverine landowners and business, local interest groups and the experts of the Environment Agency and the AONB, has produced this 109-page document.

Environment Agency

Thanks to lots of lovely photographs and expert editing by the DEP Chairman's spouse, it is remarkably readable for such documents. Endorsed by Suffolk Coastal District and Suffolk County Councils, it is now a material consideration for planning purposes and also for the Environment Agency's strategic plan on flood risk management.

Amongst speakers, Lord Deben said that it is being widely acknowledged by Government for its highly consultative, rather than 'top-down' approach. He reviewed the years since flooding in the Blyth Estuary led to the Environment Agency's close cooperation with those living and working along the Suffolk Coast and estuaries. Reminding all of the singular importance of water, and therefore its careful management, he warned of the now inevitable effects of climate change, with sea levels rising and prospect of more extreme weather events. That said, he recommended we should be thankful for their predictability and, hence, the ability to prepare defences and limit our contributions to global warming.

Waste Bins at the Waldringfield Sailing Club

The Parish Council would like it to be known that the bins in the WSC car park are for the use of the Sailing Club and the beach hut owners only and not for general public waste disposal. Such misuse may result in the loss of the collection service, something that it wishes to avoid.

With thanks from WPC

On the Waterfront...

The improved riverside footpath from the Boatyard to Turner's Bench has become well trodden during this humdinger of a summer. The boatyard shop has provided welcome ice creams, and the new 'Oystercatcher' day boat has proved popular for river trips.

Swallows and house martins have nested by the riverside and produced young. As usual, the oystercatchers have not been so successful – three eggs this year, which failed to hatch. On one occasion a sparrowhawk was also spotted in gardens on The Quay.

Further along the footpath, bird varieties have been gradually increasing on the new Dairy Farm Marsh freshwater nature reserve. The excitement started with the arrival of a couple of nightingales in mid April and a cuckoo calling regularly across the marsh. By mid-August at least thirty black-headed gulls could be seen on one of the islands in the middle of the scrape. During the summer other birds spotted by residents have included a curlew, a little egret, a grey heron, two avocets, two Canada geese, several shelducks, another nesting oystercatcher pair, six lapwings, three redshanks and a greenshank. The resident barn owl has been spotted, and three owlets have been ringed. Two hares and two muntjac deer have also been seen on the meadow section of the marsh.

There have been unconfirmed sightings of a bird of prey on the marsh – it may have been a marsh harrier. Earlier in the summer, a marsh harrier was certainly seen on Mill Lane.

Several residents have helped with the compilation of this report, including Peter Maddison, Rosalind Erskine and Donna Morgan. Peter compiles a very comprehensive 'What's About' every couple of months. Email prmaddison@yahoo.co.uk to sign up for this newsletter, written by a real expert! Peter would also be delighted to hear about any wildlife sightings from residents.

Janette Brown

Emma Barton of Waldringfield Boatyard has been running river trips on the new 'Oystercatcher' day boat during the summer.

These will continue at weekends throughout September. The boatyard can be contacted via mark@waldringfieldboatyard.co.uk

Quiet Lanes - by Neil Winship

Phase 1 of the Quiet Lanes Suffolk pilot scheme has now run for 17 months. Its 14 signed lanes are less than 10% of such lane-length in the southern half of Coastal, so most drivers and non-motorised users of rural roads will not have come across any of the signs.

As such, few will link with our campaign to Expect vulnerable people round the next bend and Respect their right to a fair share of road space. The small % increase in walkers and cyclists has been less than the variability expected due to weather and events, and everyone acknowledges that it takes time to win more considerate driving habits.

It will take years for those who have felt deterred by their perception of risks on rural lanes to overcome their anxiety. With 11 'new' parishes proposing 16 further lanes for Phase 2, QLS continues to look towards many more people choosing to walk or cycle whenever they can and even to when Waldringfield School's 'walking bus' becomes the norm.

A Message from Passenger Transport Suffolk County Council

You may be aware that the one of our sponsored local bus contracts has been re-tendered with effect from Tuesday 1st September 2015.

Currently, Beestons operate a 17.15 Monday to Friday service 72 from Ipswich Old Cattle Market Bus Station to Martlesham Tesco and thereafter request stops only to Waldringfield, Newbourne, Kirton and finishes at Bucklesham.

The new operator First, with our encouragement, has decided to continue from beyond Martlesham as a full service via Kirton and operates into the centre of Ipswich to arrive for 18.34 / 18.37.

While I appreciate that this is a relatively minor change, it will allow any passengers visiting the villages to have a return journey to Ipswich later in the day.

It also provides an opportunity for anyone to travel into Ipswich for an evening, although at the moment we do not have a journey back, other than on main line routes further away. i.e. 66 and 75. This limited service may be useful for some residents but shows, wherever possible, we do consider how additional journeys can be brought into the existing network at a minimal cost.

Our two PDF composite timetables are available on our website (under August Bus Service Changes)
